Origami Risk

Origami Risk AI

Smarter tools to move faster and confidently

Managing risk and insurance today demands speed and critical insights so teams can act decisively in a landscape that's only growing more complex. That's why we've invested in AI, pairing intelligence and automation to support faster, better-informed decisions, reduce friction, and meet the pace of modern risk and insurance management with clarity and confidence.

Across the Origami platform, AI is woven throughout, powering automated task handling, real-time content generation, and intelligent data interpretation—giving you more time to focus on strategic decisions. You'll be able to act with greater confidence and get more done, faster. We've taken a deliberate, client-first approach to developing our AI capabilities. With transparent, opt-in controls and a steadfast commitment to data security, our AI is designed to work on your terms.
