

One Platform to Reduce Your Total Cost of Risk

Risk managers face mounting pressure to prevent losses, defend insurance programs, and justify every dollar spent. That work gets harder when data lives in disconnected systems and processes that don't scale.

The only RMIS platform named a Leader by Redhand, Verdantix, Gartner, and KLAS simultaneously, Origami Risk brings incident management, claims, exposure, policy, and analytics together on a single platform, giving your risk team the tools to prevent losses, control costs, and defend your program with data.

Prevent losses before they happen

- Capture incidents from any device with configurable forms that guide accurate, complete submissions.
- Automate notifications, route investigations, and assign corrective actions to the right people.
- Track every item from report through closure in a single, auditable workflow.
- Connect incident data to claims, analytics, and exposure data across your program.

Control costs when losses occur

- Manage the full claims lifecycle in one place, from first notice of loss through resolution.
- Configure workflows with automated stakeholder alerts, regulatory reporting, and complete audit trails.
- Streamline exposure data collection and allocate losses, premiums, and costs across your organization.
- Use weighted formulas and cost-center logic built around your risk management objectives.

Control costs when losses occur

- Consolidate policy data, documentation, and renewal information in one integrated system.
- Visualize coverage towers, identify gaps and overlaps, and model retention scenarios.
- Access configurable dashboards, ad hoc reporting, and industry benchmarking in one place.
- Share real-time risk program performance with leadership in minutes.
