

Turn your platform into an ecosystem

Modern risk and insurance organizations rely on a growing ecosystem of data providers, analytics tools, compliance solutions, and specialized services. Connecting these solutions quickly, securely, and without months of integration work remains a major operational challenge.

The Origami Risk Marketplace provides a curated ecosystem of prebuilt connectors, partner integrations, accelerators, and workflows that activate directly within Origami Risk. Teams can deploy trusted connections faster and extend platform capabilities without lengthy integration cycles or heavy development effort.

Origami Risk becomes the hub connecting the technologies, partners, and data that support modern risk and insurance operations.

Why the Origami Risk Marketplace matters

- Launch faster, without custom integration cycles: Traditional integrations take months of design, development, and testing. The Marketplace accelerates time-to-value with prebuilt connectors and reusable workflow templates that deploy in weeks, not quarters.
- Reduce IT dependency: Modern risk and insurance organizations face talent and skill gaps across APIs, cloud, AI/ML, and security. The Marketplace minimizes custom code and simplifies integration administration, making it easier for your business teams to move faster with less technical lift.
- Connect your entire ecosystem: From data enrichment and compliance tools to payments, analytics, and AI services, Marketplace solutions extend Origami Risk's core capabilities without fragmenting your workflows.
- Govern with confidence: Security, compliance, and governance are built into the Marketplace model. Instead of brittle, one-off integrations, you deploy curated connections aligned to platform standards and reduce risk and long-term maintenance burden.
- Future-proof your platform strategy: The platform you choose determines how quickly you can connect, adapt, and scale. The Marketplace positions Origami Risk as the connective hub across risk and insurance operations, unifying workflows in a single extensible environment.

What you gain with the Marketplace

Origami Risk Marketplace access gives you:

- A curated ecosystem of trusted partners.
- Workflow templates and accelerators.
- Standardized API connectors that reduce custom development.
- Solutions organized around workflows, not static listings.

Integrations included in the platform or enabled through vendor agreements. You'll get flexibility while maintaining governance.

How the Marketplace works

1. Administrators and business leaders explore the Marketplace within the Origami Risk Admin Portal.
2. Solutions are organized around workflows, supported actions, and integration categories.
3. You review capabilities, deployment requirements, and governance details.
4. Activate the integration through the Origami Risk Marketplace, enabling it within the environment using the defined controls.

The Marketplace streamlines discovery and deployment while maintaining platform alignment and security standards.

Built for today's integration challenges

Organizations evaluating core systems face the same pressures:

- Integration complexity and long delivery timelines.
- Heavy reliance on scarce technical talent.
- Maintenance risk from custom connections.
- Security and governance concerns across third-party tools.
- Competitive pressure from ecosystem-driven platforms.

The Origami Risk Marketplace addresses these challenges by reducing integration complexity and accelerating time-to-value.

Designed around real workflows

Technology Marketplaces often highlight the number of integrations available. The Origami Risk Marketplace focuses on how solutions support real workflows across risk and insurance.

Solutions are organized around workflows, supported actions, and integration outcomes, so teams quickly understand how technology fits into daily risk and insurance processes.
