

One Integrated Platform for Quality Improvement and Patient Safety

Quality teams are expected to reduce harm, drive continuous improvement, and meet ever-changing regulatory and accreditation requirements. Most are doing it with disconnected tools, inconsistent workflows, and limited visibility across the organization.

Origami Risk is a comprehensive healthcare risk management platform built to help quality teams reduce harm, improve processes, and demonstrate measurable progress. Centralize patient safety and quality data, connect it to the rest of your risk program, and put it to work.

Investigate and learn from every event

- Capture incidents from any device with configurable intake forms that improve accuracy and completion.
- Automate routing, trigger investigations, and track corrective actions to closure without manual follow-up.
- Conduct structured RCAs across multiple methodologies: RCA framework, 5 Whys, and state-specific forms.
- Aggregate findings across events to surface systemic patterns and measure the impact of interventions.

Standardize processes and protect quality

- Guide teams through structured HFMEA analyses to proactively identify and mitigate risk.
- Create, maintain, and distribute policies with automated review cycles and electronic sign-off.
- Enforce version control and link policies directly to relevant incident records.
- Support accreditation readiness with complete, audit-ready documentation.

Control costs when losses occur

- Conduct EOC, employee, and leadership rounds online or offline with structured rounding templates.
- Support daily safety huddle workflows with real-time issue capture and automated escalation.
- Automatically schedule rounds, capture issues, and trigger follow-up tasks with full accountability.
- Bring quality data from EMR, ADT, and Lab systems into one consolidated reporting platform.
